

GRAND THEFT AUTO SOUTH COAST

The whales are gone. The mills are closed. The money still washes up somewhere — you just gotta know which dock.

★ 1986

FALL RIVER · NEW BEDFORD · CAPE COD · BROCKTON

OPEN-WORLD CRIME EPIC

Autumn 1986. Vinny Cabral comes home to run one big import job through the New Sefton fish piers — and gets ambushed in the fog. The cash is gone, his crew is in the harbor, and a Providencia boss wants his half-million back. So Vinny does the only thing a man can do on the South Coast: he buys every mill, dock, bakery, gym, and ferry until he owns the whole rotten coastline.

MRATED M FOR MASSACHUSETTS

Strong crime themes · Coarse language (a lot) · Aggressive driving in bridge traffic

FOUR DISTRICTS, ONE DIRTY COAST

Three working towns split by water, bridges, and class, plus one battered city inland that runs on shoes and fistfights. The whole climb is an eight-minute drive and forty years of social mobility.

DISTRICT 01

CASCADE

THE SPINDLE CITY

// based on Fall River, MA

Seven brutal hills, abandoned brick textile mills, triple-deckers stacked to the sky, and the most Portuguese city in the country. Sweet bread, gold chains, Holy Ghost flags.

► Verde Bridge · Battleship Cove · Maplecroft

DISTRICT 02

NEW SEFTON

THE WHALING CITY

// based on New Bedford, MA

The richest fishing port in America, and almost none of the money is clean. Cobblestone counting-houses up top; diesel, scallops, and union muscle down on the piers.

► Hurricane barrier · the fish piers · the South End

DISTRICT 03

CAPE COBB

THE FOREARM

// based on Cape Cod, MA

A sandy arm of Old Money behind two permanently-jammed canal bridges. Yacht clubs with bloodlines, a Kennedy-esque compound, and dunes hiding the best smuggling beaches on the map.

► Burns & Sachem Bridges · Hyena Port · The Fist

DISTRICT 04 · INLAND

BROCKMORE

CITY OF CHAMPIONS · "SOLE CITY"

// based on Brockton, MA

Off the water, twenty minutes up Route 24. Dead shoe factories — once the Shoe Capital of the World — and the toughest square mile of boxing in America. Boxer Country.

► Champion City Gym · the Champion's statue · Route 24

► HOME TEAM

THE AZOREAN SYNDICATE

Not flashy gangsters — uncles, godfathers, the guy who runs the bakery. Moves contraband through the fishing fleet, cleans it through the social clubs and the Festa.

► THE ENCROACHERS

THE PROVENÇAL FAMILY

Italian Cosa Nostra out of Federal Heights — the crew that set Vinny up. Gambling rooms in the dead mills, loansharking, and a stranglehold on the dockworkers' union.

► THE REAL BOSSES

OLD MONEY & BOSSES

Corrupt union leaders running the piers, and the Camlin dynasty laundering fortunes through "philanthropy" while setting quotas that crush the small boats. Never arrested.

THE PORTFOLIO

Buy the business, collect the daily take in person, unlock its mission strand. The classic Vice City loop, South Coast edition.

02	QUEQUECHAN MILL #4 Cascade waterfront	"Vacant for redevelopment." Actually a chop shop and arms warehouse in 200,000 sq ft of dead looms.	■■■
03	SACHEM STEAMSHIP LINE Cape Cobb canal	Island ferry service running cash to the islands and offshore drops on the foggy night sailings.	■■■
04	PADARIA BELA VISTA The Flint, Cascade	Portuguese bakery and café. Cash-cleaning hub, message drop, and the Azorean social club in the back.	■■■
05	THE LEVIATHAN MUSEUM Historic District	Maritime heritage out front, trafficked scrimshaw and laundered "endowments" in the archives.	■■■

04 / THE SIDELINES

CASCADE · THE HIGHLANDS ACQUITTED // Lizzie Borden · Fall River · 1892-93 Someone took a hatchet to the tightest miser on Second Street. A New Sefton jury freed his daughter in ninety minutes; the case was never solved. She bought the grandest house in the Highlands and named it Maplecroft. In 1986, the last of the line — 91-year-old Vivian Bordon — becomes Vinny's untouchable patron on the Hill. "It was never about being innocent, dear. It's about being acquitted."	BROCKMORE · CITY OF CHAMPIONS THE UNDEFEATED // a tribute to the 49-0 bloodline Brockmore worships a shoe-worker's son who fought 49 times and never lost. His cousin Sonny still runs Champion City Gym — the one clean place on the map — with a Cape Verdean-Portuguese phenom one fight from a title. The Providencia mob wants a fix. You decide whose side you're on. "We don't take a dive. We don't take their dollar. Forty-nine and oh, kid."

05 / THE SOUNDTRACK

WMILL 96.3 THE ANVIL '80s arena rock — Iron Mike Fontaine, drunk since the Bicentennial.	WJFA 99.5 RÁDIO ATLÂNTICO Fado, pimba & synth-wave. Festa notices between songs.
WRGE 1480 AM THE RAGE Buddy Mello screaming about quotas, traffic & the weather.	WYAC 101.1 YACHT 101 Chip Worthington III, the hard-R clown of Cape Cobb.

PAHK THE CAH, WE GOT WUHK

The accent isn't a garnish, it's a load-bearing wall. Every line is soaked in Eastern New England non-rhotic — drop every R, then stick it back where it doesn't belong. When in doubt: thicker.

VINNY CABRAL

"Half a million bucks. Gone. In the watah, with my whole crew. So no, Don, I'm not havin' a great mahnin'."

BUDDY MELLO • WRGE

"Two HOWAHS at the Sachem this mahnin'! Who's runnin' this cahnal, a buncha clams?! And don't get me STARTED on the quoter!"

SONNY MARCHEGIANO • BROCKMORE

"In this gym we don't take a dive, we don't take a dollah from those bums, and we don't lose. Fawty-nine and oh, kid."

VIVIAN BORDON • THE HIGHLANDS

"I was acquitted, dear. Do learn the difference."

▲ THE CHIP WORTHINGTON III BIT (RECURRING SATIRE)

Chip is the one and only character who keeps every R — sharp, smug, deliberate "hard Rs." Where the whole coast says cah, Chip says carrr and is performatively, insufferably proud of it, bringing up "his hard R" unprompted until the whole dock relocates. It reads as exactly the dog-whistle it is. He's a country-club bigot in boat shoes; the game frames him as the clown, every decent character recoils, and the punchline always lands on Chip — never on anyone he sneers at. Imply, never spell out. The pier is right there.

THE TRIPLE-DECKER

A brown wood-paneled wagon the length of a porch. Seats nine.

THE SEA DOG

A scallop trawler. Slow, unsinkable, perfect for offshore work.

THE LINGUIÇA

A moped that threads bridge gridlock like nothing else.

THE CODFISH 40

A gleaming Cape cruiser, stolen off a Hyena Port dock.

LOADING - SCREEN WISDOM

"Bread and milk before the storm. Always. This is not a drill."

"In Cascade, 'innocent' and 'acquitted' are two very different words."

"On the South Coast, 'I know a guy' is a complete business plan."
